ROSECRANS BEFORE THE BATTLE.—The correspondent of the New York Herald writing of the battle of Chickamauga says:

The General, who had been up all night, though seriously ill, indefatigable as ever, had donned what his staff called "his fighting coat"—a great coat of the style in common use among the private soldiers. He had early slung the canteen of his orderly around his own neck, and this, said his staff, who had watched and studied his manners, meant "fight." He was to me that morning an interesting study, for I had found him in a new character. He had three distinct characters, which it requires three different circumstances to reveal. In garrison, as at Murfreesboro, lively, good natured, pleasant and agreeable, fond of social games and conversation, he had grown painfully less to one who approached him with reverence for him as a great warrior; for he could see no traits of it. In movements—during his manoeuvers I mean—quick, lively, yet severe, his nerves strung to their greatest tension, and somewhat disposed to be excited over his plans and calculations, he creates in the beholder a curiosity as to his real nature, and one gets bewildered in seeing the opposing traits of the man. But on the morning of the 19th, when it was evident that everything was narrowed down to an engagement, his manner assumed a rigid dignity that was painful. He spoke in low tones, neither soft, nor pleasant, nor harsh, nor rough. His nerves become solidified, and he is a man of iron. He sees every thing and notices nothing. He stares and says nothing. You speak, and he looks at you for a moment and then turns away. All instinctively felt on that morning that Rosey was not in his approachable humor; "for, like the oracles, he talked with fate."

I shall never believe that Rosecrans or Thomas entered into the first battle of the Chickamauga with that degree of confidence which should have been felt by them. There appeared to be some thing over which Rosecrans had no control, urging him to battle, and the knowledge of it made Thomas, who blanches at nothing, look black.

IRISH ADVICE TO IRISHMEN IN AMERICA.—"From the tone of the British journal, we are induced to believe that England is at the bottom of the resistance to the draft for the Federal army. It is quite natural that men should be opposed to conscription of the kind, and that such measures would be more especially unpopular in a free country like America. It is, therefore, the more easy to stir up opposition to it. English gold is at work in New York. Her emissaries are there, taking advantage of the popular prejudices, and doing more to damage the cause of the Union than if she had actually recognized the independence of the Southern States. * * *

The London Times has an article gloating over the anticipated resistance of Governor Seymour to the draft. It would certainly be playing the game of the enemy to perfection. England would give the Governor a million pounds sterling if he could be induced to undertake such a step.

"It might tend to the prolongation of the war, or the destruction of the Union, but most unquestionably to the complete annihilation of the Irish influence in America, and an end of all the hope for a freedom of fatherland in our generation. Let them stand, to the last, by the flag that has been borne alongside their own in battle, and under whose folds alone they can find freedom and protection."

This paragraph should arrest the attention of every Irishman in the United States, who wishes well either for his native country or for that of his adoption. "England," this Irish journal assures its countrymen, "is at the bottom of the resistance to the draft for the Federal army." It is also at the bottom of all means intended to embarrass the Government in the prosecution of the war.—United Irishmen (Dublin) August 29.

ARREST OF A CLERGYMAN FOR DISLOYALTY.—Rev. Frederick Gibson, assistant rector of St. John's Church (Protestant Episcopal) at Huntingdon, was yesterday arrested about half-past 12 o'clock, near the church edifice, by a cavalry officer, and conveyed to the headquarters of General Schenck, according to official orders. The particulars of the case are thus narrated at the quarters; Some time since a gentleman named Johnson, formerly a member of Congress, addressed a letter to Mr. Gibson, who is the Principal of the Chesnut Hill School, stating that he desired to send his son there, and at the same time inquiring the terms. The reply from the Principal was to the effect that his school was full, and added that even if it were not he would not receive his son, for the reason that Mr. Johnson was a Union man, whilst all the scholars in his school were Southern in their sentiments. Soon as Mr. Johnson received the note he forwarded it to the Secretary of War, who, in return, forwarded it to Gen. Schenck. An order was therefore issued for his arrest, and upon his arrival at the quarters he was questioned by Colonel Piatt, Chief of Staff. Mr. Gibson said that as a minister and school instructor he had no political principles, but as a citizen he contended that the present condition of the country was caused by an unholy war. When informed that he was to be imprisoned he asked whether he, as a citizen, had no rights. Col. Piatt said in case of his death he would not be deprived of the rites of sepulture.—Baltimore American, Sept. 28.

MR. HACKET THE ACTOR.—Of Mr. Hackett's contemplated retirement from the stage the Chicago Journal thus speaks:

"His retirement is a loss that cannot be estimated. In a limited number of eccentric character-representations Mr. Hackett has won an imperishable fame. So long as Shakespeare's works are read and loved, Mr. Hackett's name will be intimately connected therewith. His retirement from the stage is a virtual withdrawal of Henry IV and the Merry Wives of Windson, for the world has and never will produce another such a Falstaff—and these plays without a Falstaff would be as the play of Hamlet with the part of Hamlet omitted.

COLORED TROOPS.—The New York Times says that the numerical strength of the colored regiments actually in the field is somewhat over twenty thousand men—less than has been generally supposed. This number does not include colored men who have been regularly enlisted in the service and now employed as teamsters and in various other capacities by the Government. The number so employed is about twenty-five thousand. The skeleton regiments scattered throughout the country (principally in the Southwest) are being rapidly recruited to their maximum standard, and before the end of the year it is estimated that the Government will have 80,000 negro soldiers in the field. It is the opinion of eminent military men here that colored regiments will form the basis of our future armies, and that the Government will have to rely mainly on colored troops to finish up the rebellion.

DEPRECIATION OF GOLD.—Every year witnesses a recurrence in England of the fear that men of fixed money income are to be seriously troubled by a depreciation in the value of goid through its over-production. The Cassandra cry this year comes from Mr. Henry Fawcett, who, in a paper read lately before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, makes the calculation that if the present yield from Australia and California continues during the next ten years, £200,000,000 of gold will have to be absorbed. After making the most ample allowance for the additional gold which wouid be required in consequence of the increase in wealth and population, he thought that during the next ten years not more than £60,000,000 of gold could be absorbed by Europe without a depreciation in its value. The moral of the statement was that this depreciation would fall with particular severity on persons of fixed incomes, and that it was sufficiently probable to induce every prudent man to take every precaution to obviate its consequences.

Tom Cribb, the renowned English pugilist, was once upset from his gig and picked up insensible. All kinds of remedies were had recourse to resuscitate suspended animation, but none were of the slightest avail. One of his friends, who was present, exclaimed, "Stand aside, I'll wake him." Room was made, and he shouted in the champion's ear, "Time, Tom!" Tom instantly raised his head and answered, "I'm ready!"

News and Other Items.

An old bachelor says that marriage was instituted for no other purpose than to prevent men from sleeping diagonally in bed.

The design of a ten cent subscription for a testimonial to Gen. McClellan, which was proposed to be carried through in the Army of the Potomac, has been abandoned, and the money returned to the owners.

Jeff. Davis has ordered the release of all criminals in State prisons, provided they join the Confederate army. If they acquiesce, it will add 8,000 to their ranks of the very worst description of cut-throats and outcasts.

THE ENGLISH HARVEST.—The London Daily News says that owing to the large increase in the yield, the harvest is estimated to be worth £20,000,000 to £30,000,000 more than that of last year.

"Timothy Titcomb," (Dr. J. G. Holland) has just completed, in the Springfield Republican, a series of moral essays entitled "Letter to the Joneses," which are to be collected and published in uniform style with his "Gold Foil."

"What's that ar picture on?" asked a countryman in a print store, the other day, of the proprietor, who was turning over some engravings. "That, sir, is Joshua commanding the sun to stand still." "Du tell! which is Josh and which is his son?"

THE reward for deserters has been raised by the War Department to thirty dollars, and Provost Marshal-General Fry has made such arrangements that in future the chances for a soldier's escape will be greatly diminished, and when caught he will be treated with the utmost rigor.

A conscript thus relates his experience: "As soon as I heard that I was drafted, I went up stairs on a double-quick to inspect my 'pile.' After scraping all my available funds together I found that I lacked just two hundred and ninety-eight dollars of having enough to pay my commutation."

It is said that the six guns carried into Charleston by the former pirate Sumter, which is reported to have run the blockade on the 23d ult., were two 300 and four 400-pounders, and that they will carry a ball eight miles. It is very remarkable that these tremendous engines of war have not been already tried by the rebels.

Uncle Sam had a neighbor who was in the habit of working on Sunday, but after a while he joined the church. One day he met the minister to whose church he belonged. "Well, Uncle Sam," said he, "do you see any difference in Mr. P. since he joined the church?" "Oh, yes," said Uncle Sam, "a great difference. Before, when he went out to mend his fences on Sunday, he carried his axe on his shoulder, but now he carries it under his overcoat."

A GENEROUS ACT.—We understand that Captain L. A. Pierce, Agent for the Cleveland and Detroit line of steamers, has donated the free use of one of those boats to the managers of the City Hospitals wherewith to make a pleasure excursion for the benefit of the institution. This is an exceedingly generous act on the part of Capt. Pierce, and will be thoroughly appreciated by the friends and patrons of the Hsspital in Cleveland. We always take pleasure in noting such generosity.

Mr. Peter Cooper, of New York, in a letter addressed to Governor Seymour, puts in a very clear and forcible light the great truth that the saving of the Union is a duty paramount to that of maintaining State rights. No State, he argues, could have achieved or maintained its independence without the aid of the others; nor could any single State now exist separately from the Union, except feebly and amid ever-recurring wars, as do the Central and South American Republics. Therefore, State rights, properly so called, can only be maintained within the Union. The Union is necessary to their vitality; and the best way of upholding any essential power of the States is by upholding the rightful authority and vigor of the Union.

EXAMINATION OF DRAFTED MEN.—The War Department is convinced that it has made one mistake in reference to the draft. It has permitted its surgeons to be too particular in the examination of drafted men. The Department finds that where it has had poor surgeons, yet men of practical sense, it has obtained most men, and where the most skillful and exact surgeons have had the handling of drafted persons, the Government has fared badly.

The next draft will probably be for six hundred thousand men, and the expectation of the Government, under the new instructions, to obtain one-third of the men drawn as soldiers. The two drafts and the volunteering, it is estimated, will give about three hundred thousand men by the 1st of next January. This will do very well, under the circumstances.

The bed of Og was twenty-seven feet long and seven feet broad. The height of Goliah was eleven feet; his coat weighed one hundred pounds. The body of Orestes, son of Agamemnon, leader of the expedition against Troy, was eleven and a half feet high. Maximus, a native of Spain, the Roman Emperor, was eight and a half feet high, his wife's bracelets served for finger rings. Mons. Rehin, the Belgian giant, is nearly eight feet high.

Domestic Infelicities.

Every lady who has ever lived in New York or vicinity, and been obliged to depend on the intelligence offices for servants, will appreciate the following narration. It is well known that the servants of the present day learned to value luxury and ease in the kitchen, as much as the mistress in the parlor, and have carried their ideas beyond the bounds of propriety in many cases, expecting that the kitchen will be filled with machines, for saving labor, which they are to propel, by the smallest possible amount of an outlay of strength, on their part. An interview with one of these operatives, the particulars of which are strictly reliable, will illustrate my remark.

A lady from Flatbush, L. I., was visiting a friend of mine in A——, Massachusetts, and it chanced, the conversation one day turned upon the trials of housekeeping, not the least of which is the care of servants.

She said that she once, not long since, engaged a cook in New York, and in due time, the damsel presented herself with the newspaper parcel containing her wardrobe, for the week of trial. Before proceeding to lay off her bonnet, she turned to the lady and said, "Now, Mrs. Bradford, I always like to have a good old-fashioned talk with the lady I lives with, before I begins. I'm awful tempered, but I'm dreadful forgiving. Have you Hecker's Flour, Beebe's Range—hot and cold water, stationary tubs, oil-cloth on floor, dumb waiter?" Then follows her self-planned programme for the week.

Monday I washes. I'se to be left alone that day. Tuesday I irons. Nobody's to come near me that day. Wednesday I bakes. I'se to be let alone that day. Thursday I picks up the house. Nobody's to come near me on that day. Friday I goes to the city. Nobody's to come near me that day. Saturday I bakes, and Saturday afternoon my beau comes to me. Nobody's to come near me that day. Sunday I has to myself!

Rising, she asked for a look into her sub-parlor. One hasty glance—"No oilcloth on kitchen floor? I can't work here." "You had better go," said Mrs. B., "for you can't work here," and she closed the door on the indignant female with a hearty feeling of relief.

It is high time there was a radical change in the management of servants, for they demand so much, and expect to render so small an equivalent in service. As strange truths as these could be told every day, almost every housekeeper has some bitter experiences to pass through. The first question a servant asks now-a-days is, not "What can I do for you, ma'am?" but "What privileges do you give, ma'am?" and if company be not allowed every evening when the damsel is not herself out, if the whole Sabbath be not granted for her especial perquisite, from "matins" to "vespers," if the "friends" may not be invited to a party occasionly, if free access be not granted to store, closet and pantry, tea canister, and flour barrel, besides soap box, empty, quite frequently, a lady is voted mean, and unworthy of being served.

Maxims to Live and Thrive By.

One of the wealthiest men in Philadelphia, as assuredly the least proud of his wealth, as wealth, is our respected and benevolent fellow-citizen, John Grigg, Esqr. founder of the great bookselling and publishing house of Grigg & Elliot (now J. B. Lippincott & Co.), which by the boldness, extent, and success of its business, gave an immense advance to the sale and publication of books in the United States. He has made his way to fortune by following a few plain and practical business rules, which, in fact, constitute a moral code for all who desire to gain success, by deserving it. These rules, which we copy from the American Publishers' Circular, are as follows:

1. Be industrious and economical. Waste neither time or money in small and useless pleasures and indulgences. If the young can be induced to begin to save the moment they enter on the paths of life, the way will ever become easier before them, and they will not fail to attain a competency and that without denying themselves any of the real necessaries and comforts of life. Our people are certainly among the most improvident and extravagant on the face of the earth. It is enough to make the merchant of the old school, who looks back and thinks what economy, prudence, and discretion, he had to bring to bear on his own business (and which are in fact the basis of all successful enterprise), start back in astonishment to look at the ruthless waste and extravagance of the age and people. The highest test of respectability with me is honest industry. Well-directed industry makes men happy. The really noble class, the class that was noble when "Adam delv'd and Eve spun," and have preserved their patent to this day untarnished, is the laborious and industrious. Until men have learned industry, economy, and self control, they cannot be safely intrusted with wealth.

2. To industry and economy add self-reliance. Do not take too much advice. The business man must keep at the helm and steer his own ship. In early life every one should be taught to think for himself. A man's talents are never brought out until he is thrown to some extent upon his own resources. If in every difficulty he has only to run to his principal, and then implictly obey the directions he may receive, he will require that aptitude of perception, that promptness of decesion, and that firmness of purpose, which are absolutely necessary to those who hold important stations. A certain degree of independent feeling is essential to the full development of the intellectual character.

3. Remember that punctuality is the mother of confidence. It is not enough that the merchant fulfills his engagements, he must do what he undertakes precisely at the time, as well as in the way he agreed to. The mutual dependence of merchants is so great, that their engagements, like a chain, which, according to the law of physics, is never stronger than its weakest link, are oftener broken through the weakness of others than their own. But a prompt fulfilment of engagements is not only of the utmost importance because it enables others to meet their own engagements promptly; it is also the best evidence that the merchant has his affairs well ordered, his means at command, his forces marsheled, and "everything ready for action;" in short, that he knows his own strength. This it is which inspires confidence, as much perhaps as the meeting of the engagement.

4. Attend to the minutia of the business, small things as well as great. See that the store is opened early, goods brushed up, twine and nails picked up, and all ready for business. A young man should consider capital, if he has it, or as he may acquire it, merely as tools with which he is to work, not as a substitute for the necessity of labor. It is often the case that diligence in employments of less consequence is the most successful introduction to great enterprises. Those make the best officers who have served in the ranks. We may say of labor, as Coleridge said of poetry, it is its own sweetest reward. It is the best of physic.

5. Let the young merchant remember that selfishness is the meanest of vices, and is the parent of a thousand more. It not only interferes with the means and with the end of acquisition—not only makes money more difficult to get, and not worth having when it is got, but it is narrowing to the mind and to the heart. Selfishness "keeps a shilling so close to the eye, that it cannot see a dollar beyond." Never be narrow and contracted in your views. Life abounds in instances of the brilliant resultes of a generous policy.

Be frank. Say what you mean. Do what you say. So shall your friends know and take for granted that you mean to do what is just and right.

6. Accustom yourself to think vigorously. Mental, like pecuniary capital, to be worth anything, must be well invested—must be rightly adjusted and applied, and, to this end, careful, deep and intense thought is necessary if great results are looked for.

7. Marry early. The man of business should marry as soon as possible, after twenty-two or twenty-three years of age. A woman of mind will conform to the necessities of the day of small beginnings; and in choosing a wife a man should look at—1st, the heart; 2d, the mind; 3d, the person.

8. Everything, however remote, that has any bearing upon success, must be taken advantage of. The business man should be continually on the watch for information, and ideas that will throw light on his path, and he should be an attentive reader of all practical books, especially those relating to business, trade, &c., as well as a portion of useful and ennobling literature.

9. Never forget a favor, for ingratitude is tho basest trait of man's heart. Always honor your country, and remember that our country is the very best poor man's country in the world.

DON'T ROCK THE BABY.—If all the ultimate consequences of one's acts are to be laid to his charge, says the Agriculturist, the man who invented rocking cradels for children, rests under a fearful load of responsibility. The down-right murder of tens of thousands of infants, and the weakened brains of hundreds of thousands of adults, are undoubted results of his invention. To rock a child in a cradle, or to swing him in a crib, amounts to just this: the rapid motion disturbs the natural flow of the blood, and produces stupor or drowsiness. Can any body suppose for a moment that such an operation is a healthful one? Every one knows the dizzy and often sickening effect of moving rapidly in a swing; yet wherein does this differ from the motion a child receives when rocked in a cradle? It is equivalent to lying in a ship berth during a violent storm, and that sickens nine people out of ten. A very gentle, slow motion may sometimes be soothing, though always of doubtful expediency, but to move a cradle as rapidly as the swing of a pendulum three feet long, that is once in a second, is positive cruelty. We always feel like grasping and staying the arm of the mother or nurse who, to secure quietude, swings the cradle or crib with a rapidity equal to that of a pendulum a foot long. If any mother is disposed to laugh at our suggestions or consider them whimsical, we beg of her to have a bed or cot hung on cords, then lie down in it herself, and have some one swing it with the same rapidity that she allows the cradle to be rocked. What she will experience in both head and stomach, is just what the infant experiences.

We insist that this rocking of children is a useless habit. If not accustomed to rocking, they will go to sleep quite as well when lying quietly, as when shaken in a cradle. If they do not, there is trouble from sickness, or hunger, or more likely from an overloaded stomach; and though the rocking may produce a temporary stupor, the trouble is made worse thereafter, by the unnatural means taken to produce quiet for the time being.

GEN. BUTLER will, without much doubt, supersede SCHOFIELD in Missouri. Somebody with a clear head and resolute will is evidently needed there.

A WASHINGTON dispatch states that Gen. Pope is to secure an appointment as Corps Commander in Rosecrans' army, probably superseding McCook or Crittenden.

ROSSVILLE, GA., to which Gen. Rosecrans fell back, is only about four miles from the battle-ground of Saturday and Sunday, on the road to Chattanooga. Chattanooga is about twenty miles from the battle-ground.

WM. J. JONES, Esq., who was recently nominated as a candidate for Congress from Maryland in opposition to Mr. CRISFIELD, has declined the nomination. It is stated that measures are to be taken to place another candidate in the field.

THE War Department transmitted to the Treasury Department what was supposed to be about one million dollars in Confederate money, captured while on the way to the river from Richmond. It was found that the pile represented near two million dollars.

THE SITUATION.—The latest official dispatches received at Washington are improper for publication. The result of them shows every thing to be eminently satisfactory. Although Richmond papers of the 23d are anticipating a battle, the situation on the Rapidan remains unchanged.

THE New Bedford Mercury says that persons who visited the White Mountains on Tuesday last were caught in a severe snow storm and detained over night. They suffered severely, and one young lady was insensible for four hours. The thermometer at sunrise on Wednesday stood at twenty degrees, and the weather was beautifully clear and pleasant.

WHO IS THE PATRIOT?—Is it that man who sustains his own government against her foes in time of war, or is he who, like WOODWARD, is willing to surrender to the enemy territory in our possession ample enough to rival several powerful European countries in magnitude—and trust to their tender mercies for the termination of all difficulties. These questions are easily answered by every candid and honest man. We will expect a decision at the next election.

HOW COPPERHEADS CONDUCT THE CAMPAIGN.—Their writers and speakers presume much upon the ignorance and gullibility of their readers and hearers.

It is refreshing to hear them assert that President LINCOLN applies or will apply the enormous revenues collected from our citizens for the sole and express purpose of carrying out his scheme of emancipating Southern chattels. And so with other subjects of misrepresentation.

If these monstrous inventions are credited it answers every purpose—the auditory vow to oppose the State and National Administrations—and thus a falsehood impudently uttered and implicitly believed has the desired effect.

O! for true education and enlightenment. Freemen cannot be formed without.

ACCIDENT TO REBEL PRISONERS.—About 300 rebel prisoners, confined in the extensive unfurnished hotel, known as the Maxwell House, in Nashville, were precipitated from the fifth story through a gangway fitted up with temporary stairs, to the second floor. The prisoners had made a simultaneous rush to breakfast, and the stairs gave way under the unusual weight. Two men were taken out of the ruins dead, two have died since of the injuries, and ninety-six others were injured and bruised. Some have both legs and arms broken, others are more seriously mangled.

The rebel women of the city became terribly excited about the affair, and flocked to the scene in hundreds, so completely blockading the streets that it became necessary to disperse them bo a guard, in order to extricate the injured.

Whom They Denounce!

It was edifying to hear, recently, a certain young barrister, in a protracted harangue, giving his Union friends sustaining the State and National Administrations a terrible denunciation. They, he said, were artful and wicked demagogues, who were going to turn the world, and particularly our own happy land, topsy turvy—and who must be defeated at the election or our country would be ruined and beggared! But, singular to say, he never found time, or seemed disposed, to pour out the vials of his wrath against JEFF. DAVIS or his comrades—and one might suppose that the young speaker entertained for them the most friendly feeling and considered them most abused men.

Legal Tender Notes.

The New York Court of Appeals has decided unanimously in favor of the constitutionality of the act of Congress making greenbacks a legal tender. We do not know that many of our business men ever had any special doubts on this matter, but in these latter days, when everything done to suppress this infamous rebellion is dogmatically declared to be unconstitutional, it is some comfort to know that one by one the courts are deciding all those measures to be in conformity to the constitution of our fathers. WASHINGTON, HAMILTON, JEFFERSON, MADISON, and their compatriots, were patriots and statesmen, and made a constitution for storms as well as sunshine—for war as well as peace—and so the constitutson itself fairly interpreted reads.

EDS, COMMERCIAL.—In the Post of this morning I see the following, viz.: President Lincoln, in fixing his demand for troops, has fixed the share of Pennsylvania at one sixth of the whole—that is our authority for the appointment. Now the Post fixes the whole war debt at $300,000,000 and Pennsylvania having to furnish one-sixth of the Union army has also to pay one-sixth of the debt. This is not so. Why? Because the loyal States only furnished troops for the Union army, but the whole of the States will have to pay the debt. The Post's statement, would lead a person to believe that the Southern States had left the Union forever, and that no power on earth could bring them back again—if not then when they were brought back, that they were to pay none of the United States debt.

OUR PHILADELPHIA LETTER.

Death of Francis J. Grund, Esq. — Military Matters — Financial — Political Aspects — The Sons of Temperance — Meet of Members of the Bar — Our Ward Assessors — About Bonnets.

Special Correspondence of the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30, 1863.

The howling mob of Copperheads which wended its way up to the stopping place of "Little Mac," last night, did not find that gentleman "at home." He happened to have been apprized of their coming, and knowing very well what would be required of him, he departed for a season, and Mrs. McClellan done the honors for him in a very brief and lady-like manner, by civilly saying, from between the bowed shutters, "Gentlemen, I am sorry the General is not here to thank you!" How deliciously cool, and how dampening to the ardor of those patriots, who afterwards, as if maddened by their reception, went to work and conducted themselves in such a manner, that the citizens along the streets travelled by them believed they were to be visited by a second edition of the New York riot.

After calling on the copperhead candidate for Governor, and receiving a gentle blessing at his hands they then marched by Mr. Grund's residence making all sorts of uncouth noises. That gentleman had not been apprized of the intended serenade to Gen. McClellan, and consequently it was not strange that he should be sufficiently startled to ask, when he heard the uproar and saw the flickering lights moving up and down the steps of the residences in his neighborhood. "What is the meaning of this crowd?" "What is the matter?" Having received threatening missives since his speech at the League Rooms, and reading from day to day the insane ravings of certain coopperhead journals, in reference to his recent political movements, he immediately presumed that his house was to be mobbed and perhaps his own life taken, in accordance with certain threats which he had been apprized of. Instantly making the best speed of which he was capable, he started out of his residence by the rear gate and went to the 8th ward Station House for protection, but upon his arrival at the Station House he was so much exhausted by over-excitement that he could only say, in a tone almost inaudible, "Send for a doctor—bleed me!" Dr. Huston was at once summoned, but it was too late. In ten minutes after leaving his home, Mr. Grund was a corpse. His death was caused by aploplexy, no doubt induced by alarm and excitement. Lieutenant Paulin sent for the son of the deceased and endeavored to break the sad intelligence to him gradually, but when the young man heard of the demise of his father, he fainted and dropped upon the sidewalk, at Fifteenth and Locust streets. He was carried into the Station House, and several hours elapsed before he recovered his senses. Mrs. Grund, when told of her husband's death, went out of her mind, and at last accounts was still insensible.

We are still very much in the dark concerning military matters, the Government having made such arrangements as effectually, for a time at least, interfere with "War Correspondents" and "Specials." Sufficient information is gleaned, however, to denote that the cause is much more brilliant than we imagined ten days ago. Rosecrans must have received reinforcements by this time, and as Bragg was unable to follow him directly after the battle, of course he is too late now. Of course gold has taken an upward flight again and there is little probability of its dropping until another victory. It left off this afternoon at about $1 41¼.

The eloquent young Quakeress, Miss Dickinson, addressed a very large recherche audience last night at Easton. Her theme was the national crisis, and she is said to have handled the subject as well as she is in the habit of doing—which is always satisfactory, logical and grandiloquent. I believe that I am safe in saying that there is no orator of the masculine gender, who could so further or effect the interests of A. G. Curtin, and therefore the Union, in this State as Miss Dickinson. To one who may never have heard her, or seen the manifestations of satisfaction elicited by her from a crowd, it would be difficult to convince of the fact, perhaps, but I advise all who doubt to try it on the first opportunity they get. Andy Curtin will be sure of one more vote by it, ten to one.

It would be useless for me to undertake to give you a detailed account of the almost innumerable Union ward and mass meetings which are now being held in this city nightly, and universally attended they are, too. To-night Maj. Gen. Franz Sigel and Ex-Gov. Noble, of Wisconsin, will address the great Union meeting at Concert Hall.

Last night the same hall was crowded to suffocation on the occasion of the 21st anniversary of the order of the Sons of Temperance. The meeting was presided over by the Grand Worthy Patriarch, Rex, who made a brief address, in which he stated that we have assembled this evening for the purpose of celebrating the 21st anniversary of the order. Since it was first organized in the city of New York, there have been, in all parts of the country, organized twenty-nine Grand Divisions, that of Pennsylvania containing, all told, about one hundred and fifty thousand members and visitors.

A meeting of members of the bar was held to-day in the Supreme Court room to express their respect for the memory of the late Hon. Molton C. Rogers, who was formerly a judge of the highest State tribunal, and a man of undoubted legal ability and integrity. The ordinary resolutions of condolence and respect were passed, and the meeting adjourned.

Our Ward Assessors are now sitting for the purpose of receiving extra assessments. The law requires that this assessment (extra) shall be done at least ten days before the election, and three days—to-day, tomorrow and Friday—will therefore be devoted by those officials to that purpose. All who may have changed their residence since a previous assessment, or who have hitherto failed to be assessed, must walk up, or be deprived of their vote. That is the way we do, in the Quaker City.

To-morrow is the day for our grand "openings" to commence, and the probabilities are that beside those of the milliners, dressmakers, mantuamakers and many other kinds of "makers," there will also be a terrible "opening" of husbands' pockets, much to their chagrin. If we are to believe all that we hear of the popular colors and fabrics for the coming seasons—and prices too—it is really terrifying. The advance in the price of bonnets is a criterion to judge by, of the wholesale advance in fancies. Hear what a dealer says in reply to inquiries on the subject, as to the price of bonnets:

"Of course, with all the materials that enter into their composition selling at extravagant pricei, it is not to be expected that they could be purchased at the prices that ruled two or three years ago. They sell now for a hundred per cent. more than then, as bonnets that could be bought three years ago for twelve dollars now command twenty-five; and no bonnet is too expensive, no price too high for the fashionables of to-day."

GEN. FRY has issued a circular directing that immediately upon the complction of the draft in any district, the Surgeon of the Board of Enrollment therein will compile and forward to the Provost Generat's office, statistics of the causes of exemption on account of physical disability from such draft in his district. This report will show the whole number of men drafted in the Districts, with an alphabetical list of the several kinds of disability and the number rejected for each, and will be accompanied by a detailed statement of such other facts as may be of scientifical importance to the medical profession of the army.

FROM THE POTOMAC.—A recent dispatch states that the enemy burned the railroad bridge at Catlett's station, twenty miles from here, on Saturday, evacuating the place, and are now retreating in the direction of Knoxville. Our forces are pursuing. A Gordonsville dispatch of the 28th, says the Federal force beyond the Rapidan is represented at 60,900 effective men. Opinions are conflicting as to whether there will be a fight soon or not.

AN ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.—A St. Louis dispatch states that it is understood there that a plot has been discovered to burn all the transports on the Western rivers. Several men have been arrested and are now in irons, upon one of whom a cypher was found, which being translated, disclosed instructions to destroy all steamers that can be of any use to the Government. The matter is being thoroughly investigated.

IRON CLADS AT RICHMOND.—A deserter from the Richmond City Battalion, states that there are about 11,000 troops in the neighborhood of Richmond, and that the Merrimac is lying near Jones' Bluff. The Lady Davis is fully iron-clad. A third iron-clad is on the stocks, and five gunboats are near the bluff. Nearly all the sailors there, about 5,000 men, have been sent to Charleston, under Capt. Pegram.

NEWS FROM REBEL SOURCES.—The Richmond Examiner of the 29th says that Gen. Lee has officially communicated to the War Department that Howard and Slocum's corps of the Army of the Potomac have gone to General Rosecrans. It is also said that Rosecrans has been reinforced by Grant to the amount of 16,000 men. The Examiner says that Gen. Lee will act as his military judgment dictates. A Mobile dispatch of the 26th says that the New Orleans Era says: A most disastrous reverse has occurred to the Federals in Louisiana. This concurs with the rumor that General Wetzel had been defeated and killed by General Dick Taylor, at Napoleon, La. General Bragg states that the fruits of the battle at Chickamauga are seven thousand prisoners, of whom two thousand are wounded, thirty-six pieces of artillery, twenty-five stands of colors and guidons, and over fifteen thousand small arms. Gen. Lee has issued a congratulatory order to the Army of Virginia on Gen. Bragg's victory.

The Atlanta Dispatch says that General Bragg, in reply to General Rosecrans' request for permission to bury the dead and relieve his wounded, said he had enough Yankee prisoners to bury the dead and Yankee surgeons to attend to the wounded. Another Atlanta dispatch reports General Wheeler with his cavalry across the Tennessee. Another dispatch, same date, reports Lookout Mountains held by Hood's division, now under General Jenkins. It is not supposed an assault will be made, as we command the situation, and need not sacrifice our troops. Rosecrans has two lines of defense, 600 yards apart. General Longstreet commands the river and railroad below Chattanooga. Our loss in killed and wounded will not exceed 12,000. The Yankee loss in killed and wounded and prisoners will reach 28,000. Five Yankee hospitals are in our hands, full of wounded. On Thursday night the enemy made two attempts on our lines, and were driven back both times to their entrenchments. The Lynchburg Republican, of the 28th, reports slight skirmishing in Upper East Tennessee, near Zollicoffer. A battle in that quarter is hardly probable, as Burnside will be forced to retire to reinforce Rosecrans.

A Charleston dispatch states that the enemy is evidently making himself impregnable on Morris Island.

THE MEXICAN WAR.—A letter from Queretaro Mexico, August 11th, says Juarez and his Government are at San Luis Potosi, full of courage and hope. General Diaz had been appointed Commander-in-chief, and has now a force of 8,000 men at San Luis, thoroughly organized and armed. General Doblado, of Guanejuato, has 16,000 men, also thoroughly organized and armed. Queretaro, Ajacco, and other States are organizing forces, and the Juarez Government will soon have 35,000 or 40,000 men in the field against the French, whom the Juarez Government intend to fight now and forever. The Herald has a letter from San Luis Potosi, dated August 21st. It says that Gen. Doblado had been appointed Minister of War, and Serdo de Tejada, Secretary of State—probably the two ablest men at present in the Mexican Republic. Gen. Negrete is already giving great trouble to the French in the States of Puebla and Telascala. This correspondent thinks that Mexico will be able to place 100,000 men in the field against the French.

PREMATURE.—The statement that a new draft for 600,000 men is about to be made is believed to be premature. No steps will be taken towards a new draft till the present one is completed in several Western States which have not exceeded their quota of volunteers sufficiently to cover that under the draft, as Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The Tribune says that Gen. M'Cook and Crittenden are relieved of their commands and ordered to report at Indianapolis.

IMPORTANT TO
Railway Companies, Mill Owners, &c.

We have erected and have in operation near this city an extensive Labratory for the manufacture of

LUBRICATING AND PAINT OIL,

by a new and ingenuous scientific process—and now offer and commend to public notice and patronage three grades: A. B and C, respectively of 1st, 2d and 3d quality LUBRICATING OIL. Wherever these lubricators have been tested they have been pronounced greatly superior to any of the preparation lately offered in the market. The A, or best quality is designed to take the place of the best Sperm Oil, and for use on cotton, woolen or other fine machinery. The B, or second quality for Railways and other like machinery, and the C, or third quality for heavy and course gearing, &c.

The PAINT OIL has been tested by numerous painters in this city, and found to be a Capital Substitute for Boiled Flax-seed Oil.

Indeed, many painters give it a decided preference. These OILS are now extensively manufactured at our

EUREKA LUBRIC OIL WORKS,

As the process is scientific and uniform, customers can rely on the uniform excellence of these economic equivalents of Sperm and Flax-seed Oil. A trial and test is confidently invited. For sale at No. 31 MARKET street, corner of Second.

Funeral of Mrs. Robinson.—A very large funeral cortege accompanied the remains of Mrs. Joshua Robinson to the grave, yesterday afternoon.

Larceny.—Rachel Hip was yesterday arrested by Jno. Musner, Market constable, charged with having stolen a pair of childrens' shoes, valued at $1,25, from the shoe stand of Mrs. Shuity, in the market. His Honor, Mayor Sawyer, committed her to jail in default of bail, there to await her trial at the next term of the Criminal Court.

Court Intelligence.—In the Court of Quarter Sessions yesterday morning, in the case of Rosanna Bolton, of East Liberty, Collins township, indicted for selling liquor without license, the Court overruled a motion for a new trial. In the case of the Commonwealth against Chapman and others, for conspiracy, (commonly known as the coal diggers' conspiracy, which was tried some years ago,) the Court overruled a motion for a new trial. In the case of Sarah Leslie, charged with keeping a house of ill-fame, the rule to remit recognizance was discharged.

Deserters Arrested.—F. Schwigh, private of the 74th Pennsylvania, Co. G, who deserted near Fredericksburgh, in June, 1862, was arrested by detective Henry Harman, and given into the custody of Captain Kirker. Schreckerghast, private in the 139th regiment, was also arrested by Mr. Moore, detective for Armstrong county, and handed over to Capt. Kirker. Both men were handed over yesterday, and are now confined at the Girard House. Altogether, some seventy deserters have been arrested since Capt. Kirker has been in office.

General Agency.—Our old friend and brother typo, James Onslow, after an experience of twenty-three years in the newspaper business, has opened a General Business and Soldiers' Claim Agency. His office is at No. 65 Fifth street, up stairs, the same occupied by Frank C. O'Brien, Notary Public. Mr. O., from his extended acquaintance throughout the State, together with his knowledge of affairs at Harrisburg, Washington, and elsewhere, is bound to succeed in his new enterprise. Those who have business to transact in his line would do well to call on him.

Killed in a Planing Mill.—About nine o'clock, Wednesday morning, a fatal accident occurred at the planing mill and box manufactory of Mr. J. P. Pierson, near the line of the Ninth Ward. A workman named Anthony Broadhurst was struck in the stomach by a board, which sprung back while he was sawing it with a power saw. The injured man was taken to his home on Carson street, near the Allegheny Valley Railroad, where he died about seven o'clock the same evening. The deceased was thirty-two years of age, and leaves a wife and six children, the oldest child being eleven years the youngest five months old. The Coroner held an inquest, and the jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts above stated.

A Grand Fizzle.

With all the flourish of trumpets, and the day being the anniversary of the adoption of the Federal constitution, the friends of Woodward had a miserable turn out of people at their Grand Convention at Uniontown, on Wednesday, there not being present at their meeting over two thousand people. Notwithstanding the fact that in Fayette county the laws of the Government have been resisted time and again, the friends of Woodward could not get up a demonstration that would do honor to a ward of this city. The enthusiasm was of a very feeble nature, and the character of those in attendance below mediocrity in intelligence. Such demonstrations as these are doing wonders for the Union ticket, and the opponents of the Government in Fayette county are becoming lamentably small for their comfort.

Union Rally at Uniontown.

On Monday next, there will be a grand rally of the Union men at Uniontown, to which the loyal people of Allegheny county are earnestly invited. An excursion train will leave the depot of the Connellsville road, on Ross street at eight o'clock, Monday moruing, returning the same evening, giving to all an opportunity of attending. We refer our readers to the advertisement in another column, for further particulars, and earnestly urge all who can. to go.

Colored Troops.—We are glad to learn that Capt. Beugless, recruiting officer for colored troops, is meeting with considerable success. Colored people have every inducement offered to them to enlist in their country's cause, being paid the same bounty, &c., as white men. Capt. Beugless is an accomplished officer, and has already sent a large number of recruits to Camp William Penn. Colored citizens wishing to enlist should call on the Captain.

Interesting to Army Visitors.

A Washington correspondent says:—Daily large numbers of persons, male and female, come to Washington for the purpose of visiting their relatives and friends who may be sick in the army hospitals. All such, before leaving home, should provide themselves with certificates from the member of Congress from their districts, or some well known persons, showing the identity of the party, and attesting to his or her loyalty. Strangers can visit the hospitals in and around Washington, on this side of the Potomac, with little difficulty, but all who find it necessary to go over into Virginia, even to Alexandria, must be provided with a pass from the Provost Marshal, and to procure this pass they must produce some evidence as to their identity and loyalty. Many who are unable to produce such proof have been compelled to return home without seeing their sick friends. This precaution is taken to prevent imposition, as it has been discovered that disloyal persons from Virginia, after coming to Washington, have resorted to deception, and passed themselves off as Pennsylvanians and citizens of other States, in order to procure passes to enable them to go over the Potomac. The Acting State Agent at Washington, Major Gilliland, vouches for those whom he knows to be loyal citizens, but many who are unknown to him are refused. Hence, those who come to visit their friends in the army should provide themselves with vouches from home sources.

Union Convention at Clinton, Pa.

A tremendous gathering of the citizens of Allegheny, Washington and Beaver counties, was held at Clinton, Allegheny county yesterday, which was conceded by all present to be the largest and most enthusiastic meeting in that section during the present compaign. Capt. J. Young was called to the Chair, Messers. John McDonald, Marshall Short, John McLaskey, John Woods, J. W. Stewart, Matthey Bailey, Hugh Barton, J. H. McNall, George Shelito, Wm. Livingston, John Christy and James McCutcheon were elected Vice-Presidents, and Thomas Nicholson, H. E. McBride, Wm. Erwin, Matthew Hall and T. M. Sterratt were elected Secretaries. The procession was about four and a half miles long, with numerous banners, flags and mottoes. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. Dr. McCook, J. W. F. White, W. H. Denniston and R. A. Cameron, Esq. The best feeling prevailed, and the speeches were received with shouts of applause. A meeting was held at night, when Col. F. M. Bayne and others addressed the audience.

Meeting in Ohio Township.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the loyal men of Ohio township was held at Duff's Mills, on Wednesday evening last. Rev. J. L. Fairley was called to the chair, and Isaac Rhodes, Esq., elected secretary. Mr. Fairley, on taking the chair, introduced to the audience L. P. Stone, Esq., who addressed the meeting in an earnest and patriotic speech. B. G. Childs, Esq., also addressed the meeting. The following resolutions were reported by Frank Little, J. C. Morrow and J. B. Duff, and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS our country is now engaged in a war for its preservation, involving the deepest and highest interests of American citizens, therefore, be it

Resolved, That to-night, while our noble soldiers and friends in camp and field are nobly struggling in the holy cause, we, their friends, pledge anew to them and our country, our deep and earnest devotion to the cause of the Union and the undying principles of human freedom.

Resolved, That we declare ourselves now, henceforth and forever, fully and unqualifiedly committed to the cause of the Union, and, ignoring party ties, recognize as our friends only those who are friends of the Union.

Resolved, That believing the course of his Excellency, Governor Andrew G. Curtin, to have been steadfastly and earnestly directed to the restoration of the Union and the supremacy of the laws, we pledge him our cordial support in the present canvass; and by voice and vote, by every energy, we will labor for his re-election.

Grand Meeting at Lawrenceville.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting was held last night in Chislett's Grove, at which there could not have been less than five thousand people. The meeting was organized by calling to the chair, George D. Clouse, and selecting the following Vice Presidents: Hebron Robinson, James T. McClure, M. Nickerman, Joseph Pearson, Henry Snowden, James Wilson, William Bishop, Col. Kirsey, Robt. Wightman, Dr. James Robinson, Noah P. Craig, William Flacus, George W. Irwin, Thomas Douglas, Edward Wilks, John Earle, Thos. Howard and John Wilkinson.

The Secretaries chosen were C. B. Bostwick, M. M. Bostworth, John West and George Irwin.

The first speaker introduced was B. S. Childs, an eloquent and very sincere man from the army, who made one of the most effective and telling speeches that we have heard during the campaign.

Mr. Marshall succeeded him in one of his happiest efforts, and to a truthful declaration of principles added some humorous truths that had great effect upon the audience. The meeting adjourned in the best possible humor, and amidst the greatest enthusiasm.

Seventh Ward Union Meeting.—There was a large Union meeting held at the Seventh Ward School House, last night, Mr. McCarthy acting as President. Dr. Douglass addressed the meeting at considerable length, and was followed by Messrs Wm. Little, Wm. C. Mordaunt, T. J. Bigham, Dr. McCandless and Mr. McCarthy. The interest was very great, and the meeting did not adjourn until nearly eleven o'clock.

Much Worse.—Young Martin, who was so dangerously injured by being run over by the cars, night before last, was much worse last night, and but little hopes are entertained of his recovery. He was delerious, and it required constant attention to keep him in bed during his agonizing struggles.

Eds. Com.:—The result of a vote taken in he A. V. R. R. train, this morning, resulted as follows: Curtin, 25; Woodward, 7.

Police Intelligence.

STEALING A CABLE.—John Weaver was arrested yesterday by Mayor Alexander's police, on a charge of stealing a cable from the house of Mrs. Moul, Chestnut St. The stolen property was recovered, and Weaver was held on trial.

STEALING A HAM.—James Cole, colored, found in posession of a ham which he had stolen from the stall of Mr. Partridge, in the Allegheny market, was committed for trial yesterday by Mayor Alexander.

Public Amusements.

THEATRE.—A new and very attractive play, entitled "The Belle of Fashion," will be presented to-night at the Theatre, in which Miss Heron will personate the heroine. The play was written originally for her, and is said to abound in fine situations and eloquent language. Miss Heron has had a very successful season thus far, and as a lady of talent and merit in her profession we are glad to record the fact.

PROF. ANDERSON still continues to attract crowded audiences to Masonic Hall, his feats of legerdemain exciting the most lively interest. The Professor performs his tricks without the aid of a great quantity of machinery, and his deception of his audience is all the more surprising.

"Daily Commercial" Job Printing Office.—Orders for every style of Book and Job printing promptly and neatly executed, from a visiting card up to a mammoth poster. The most rapid and improved steam presses are used in the execution of the work.

Those beautiful lots on Nunnery Hill, which overlook the city of Allegheny, at the head of Federal street, are to be sold at A. Leggate's Auction House, 159 Federal street, on Tuesday evening, October 6th, at 7 o'clock. Plans can be had from the Auctioneer, and the grounds will be shown by Mr. Stedeford, who lives on the premises.

If You Want Fresh Shell, Can or Bucket Oysters, call at the "Rush House," 307 Liberty street, as you will always find Davy and John with a smile on their face to wait on their customers.

Vocal Music.—H. D. Brecht, teacher of Singing and Cultivation of the Voice, 126 Smithfield street.

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines, for family and manufacturing purposes, are the best in use. A. F. CHATTONY, General Agent, No, 18 Fifth street.

FROM WASHINGTON.—Washington specials state that General Halleck has voluminous dispatches from General Rosecrans of a very satisfactory character, but improper for publication. The enemy had made no demonstration for several days. The invalid corps has been organized into sixteen regiments, and Colonels to command them detached from Majors previously appointed. Colonel Ramsey has been appointed Brigadier General, and assigned to the charge of the Ordnance Bureau, which he has filled since the retirement of General Ripley.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FOR additional Commercial and Financial Matters see fourth page.

THERE has been a fair amount of business done by our banks for a few weeks past in the line of loans and discounts. The offerings at the various boards of good mercantile paper has been freely taken, and the monthly statement of the banks published this morning shows the aggregate of over $7,000,000 in loans and discounts since their last official report.

In New York yesterday Gold was irregular and unsettled, opening as low as 40½, advancing to 43, and closing quiet at 42½. The money market was a shade easier than the previous day—the chief transactions being made at 6 per cent. Government Stocks were without material change.

Says the New York Post: The decision of the Court of Appeals yesterday, that the banks can redeem notes in the national currency, is regarded as likely to increase the abundant supply of capital for loan purposes. For the banks will no longer contract their circulation as they have lately done, but will be tempted to expand it to more than its former limits. The absorbtion of the 5-20s, and an increased demand for all descriptions of government securities, is anticipated as one consequence of the resulting case in money, with the revival of the speculative spirit and a general stimulation of business.

Coal at Cincinnati and Louisville is selling at the enormous price of fifty cents a bushel. There is now loaded at this port and waiting a rise, some five millions of bushels, and in the event of a proper stage of water, it is feared there will not be an adequate supply of hands to manage the boats, and this will protract the season beyond the usual time. This immense quantity of coal ready for the market below, will doubtless prevent any strikes on the part of diggers this fall—an event pretty generally looked for, but now we hope is far in the future.

The semi-annual interest of $3.65 on the 7-30 per cent. bonds of the Government was payable yesterday at the United States Mint, Philadelphia. As this sum of 3.65 per. cent. is payable in gold, which is now worth some forty-four per cent. more than paper currency, it swells the semi-annual interest payment of $3.65 to $5.25 per cent., or $10.50 per annum, instead of 7.30. The interest on the Five-Twenty years six per cent. bonds will be payable on the 1st of November, one month distant, also in gold, which, if the "premium" should be no greater than it is at present, will net a semi-annual dividend in currency equal to $4.42, or $8.84 per annum. It is no wonder, with these figures before us, that our Government securities are in demand.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, Friday, October 2.

Business presented no new feature yesterday, the demand for the leading articles being only moderate. Holders, however, were firm in their views, and declided operating unless at the outside quotations. The weather continues very pleasant with indications of rain. A rise of water at this time would be of immense value, not only to onr city and neighborhood, but also to the citizens of the West and Southwest, as many of them are actually suffering for want of coal, whilst we have an abundance for them, and are only waiting transportation. Among the sales we note as follows:

CHEESE—The supply was about equal to the demand; prices rule about the same; sales 100 bxs W R at 12@13c.

MESS PORK—The operations in this market for some time past have been very limited, in fact this never was much of a pork market; operators generally go farther west. We note a sale of 130 bbls at $14 50 ₰ bbl; sales in a small way were made at higher figures.

BACON—The supply on hand is rapidly disappearing. The present stock will soon be exhausted unless dealers receive a fresh supply. Hams—Plain have nearly disappeared; we quote nominally at 10½c. Sugar cured—market very bare; small sales were made at 14½c ₰ lb. Sides—Sales 18,000 lbs ribbed at 6¼@6½c; other small sales were made at 14½c. Shoulders—Sales 5000 lbs at 6½c; sales of inferior meats at various prices.

SALT—Sales 200 bbls delivered on platform at $2 50 ₰ bbl.

FLOUR—Holders were quite independent at the last advance, and do even hint at a further one, as the stock in first hands is very light; unless we soon have a resumption of navigation prices must necessarily go up. Among the sales we note as follows:

Extra—50 bbls at $5 25; 120 bbls at $5 25; 80 bbls on private terms.

Extra Family—65 bbls at $6 50; 150 bbls from store at $6 20@6 50; wagon flour sold at various prices as ₰ quality.

APPLES—The market is overstocked, the receipts being principally of an inferior quality; sales 220 bbls in lots at prices ranging from $1 50 to $1 75 ₰ bbl; a choice article would readily command higher figures.

GRAIN—The demand continues active; receipts light.

Wheat—Was in steady demand with regular sales of white at $1 25@1 28; red $1 12@1 15 by the car load.

Barley—Was active at full rates for Spring and Fall.

Oats—Sale 900 bush from first hands at 70c; 250 do at same figures.

Corn—Was enquired for; sales 700 bush at 90c ₰ bush.

Rye—Was steady at 90c ₰ bush; prices tending upward.

HAY—Market very firm with sales of 11 loads at $20@34 ₰ ton. Sales of baled at former quotations.

GROCERIES—The market was very firm, prices of sugar especially looking up; this seems to be the case in most of the large cities.

Sugars—Range as follows: Cuba 13c; Orleans 13¼@13½c; Crushed 16½@16¾c; A Coffee 16c; B Coffee 15¾c.

Coffee—Looking up; sales 46 sacks Rio at 32@33c ₰ lb.

Molasses—Sales 65 bbls old Orleans at 58c; 20 do new to the trade at 62c.

BUTTER—The receipts are on the increase; sales 900 lbs roll at 18@20c; inferior sold at various prices.

EGGS—Market steady; sales 4 bbls at 15c.

Allegheny Cattle Market.

Thursday, October 1.

Cattle—The market contained a moderate supply; all good stock offered found ready purcasers at the outside figures. The cattle offerings that were disposed of in this market amount to 1,093 head. The shipments east were moderate. The curret rates were 2@2¼@3@3½ @3¾.

Hogs—The receipts are beginning to increase. As soon as cold weather sets in business will open up. It seems to be the general impression that the market will rule high. We quote nominally at $4@4 75, as ₰ quality.

Sheep—The market was fairly supplied during the week. The sales were to a fair extent, and prices ruled high as a general thing. Those offered were of an inferior quality.

Horses—The demand was active and prices have advanced. Government purchasers did the principal business.

SALES OF CATTLE.

G Poindexter sold 40 head of Ohio cattle at $2-92½ ₰ cwt.

W Patridge sold 30 head of Ohio stock at $28 75 ₰ head.

PITTSBURGH OIL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, Friday, October 2.

The market yesterday was dull so far as transactions were concerned. Dealers do not seem very anxious to operate at the present prices. The exports yesterday were, to New York, Refined, 734; Naptha, 50; Tar, 63 bbls, To Philadelphia—Refined 599; Benzole 49; Crude 50; Naptha 20. Shipped West—247 bbls. The imports, same time, were, per A. V. R. R., 1,817 bbls; per river, 225 bbls.

Crude—The outside figures for Crude seems to be 27c without and 32c with the packages. The market in the East being dull no doubt has a depressing effect here. The only persons that are purchasing Crude just now are the refiners, and they more for the purpose of keeping their refineries in operation than anything else. There must be a deline here or an advance in the East before the demand can be active.

Refined—Holders have liberal views so far as prices are concerned. Buyers do not seem to entertain the same views, hence we habe no sales to report, prices at present being nominal.

Cincinnati Market.—Oct. 1.

Flour—There was a quiet and rather subdued feeling in the market to-day, under the news from New York, but there was no special change in prices. Buyers offered $5@5 10 for superfine, but 10c over this rate was asked. The only sale we heard of was 170 bbls family at $6.

Whisky—No change in the market. Sales of 700 bbls at 52@52½c, the latter rate for wagon.

Cider—A sale of 1,000 bbls at $5 50 ₰ bbl, to be delivered within the next sixty days.

Provisions—The market did not undergo much change. 500 tcs Lard sold, under the news last evening, at 10c, but to-day it was offered at this rate without buyers. Nothing transpired in Pork or Bacon.

Groceries—The market is unchanged and firm.

Wheat—The market rules firm, with a demand fully up to the supply. We quote Prime Red at $1 10@1 12, and the best grades of Kentucky White at $1 30@1 35. No Indiana or Ohio wheat in the market. The sales made public were: 600 bus choice White at $1 32; 650 do prime do at $1 30; 5,000 do do at $1 32, to arrive; 350 do choice do at $1 34; 500 do good do at $1 28, on landing; 6,000 do fair Red at $1 05; 350 do prime do at $1 13 delivered; 700 do do do at $1 12, and 1,000 do choice do at $1 15.

Corn—There wrs a good demand this morning, and sales were made at 91@92c in bulk, but there were no buyers at the close at over 90c. For delivery within 60 days 82c was offered and refused. The sales reportea were: 3,000 bus at 92c, in bulk, and 2,000 do at 90c.

Oats—The demand for present delivery continues good, and the offerings being light, the market rules firm at 70c, in bulk, and 80c, sacks included. About 1,500 bus sold last evening at 71@72c in bulk, but this was considered above the market. The sales were: 3,500 bus, including sacks, at 80c, and 1,500 do, in bulk at 70c.

Rye—Prime samples are scarce and held firmly at 98c@$1, but we have heard of no sales above 96 cents.

Barley—The market has not undergone any change. We quote, as the asking prices, $1 40 @1 50.

Hay—The supply is light and hardly equal to the demand, and the tendency of prices is upwards. We quote prime Timothy at $29@30 per ton, in bales, on arrival.

Cheese—The demand continues good, with light receipts, and prices are ¼c better, closing at 11¼@12c for Western Reserve, the latter rate for selected, and 12½c for Hamburg.

Butter—The best grades are in good request, and the market rules firm at 23@25c. The lower grades are quoted at 15@20c.

Wheat Crop of the South.

The New Orleans Picayune gives the following estimate of the Southern wheat crop:

It is not claimed that the figures are official statements of the amounts raised, but as it is known that unusual attention has been paid, since the war, to the cultivation of the cereals rather than to the staples, tobacco and cotton, it is probable that the annexed figures are not over-estimated of the wheat crop for this year. The following are the figures for the wheat crop for 1860 and 1863 in the States named:

	1860. Bushels.	1863. Bushels.

RIVER MATTERS.

(CONDENSED AND PREPARED FOR THE DAILY COMMERCIAL.)

We condense the following from Thursday's Cincinnati Commercial:

The river here is falling, with only twenty inches on the worst bars above, and two feet in the canal. The Lower Ohio and Tennessee are falling.

The Nettie Hartupee left for Kanawha, and the Princess for Memphis—the latter with an elegant trip. The W. C. Mann came in from Memphis. The Lady Franklin is due from Memphis.

The Jewess has laid up at Evansville and reshipped her cotton by rail.

ST. LOUIS.

The river here is falling slowly. In the last twenty-four hours, ending at ten o'clock a. m. yesterday, it receded one inch, and was then three feet nine inches above low water mark in December, 1860.

There is five feet in the channel out to Cairo, and four and a half feet below Cairo.

The Ohio river is falling steadily from Pittsburgh to the mouth, and very low.

The Illinois river is falling from Peoria down. with about twenty-five inches in the channel.

The Upper Mississippi is falling from St. Paul down, with three and a half feet on the upper and thirty inches on the lower rapids. Below Keokuk there is not more than three and a half feet on the bars.

The Missouri river is falling from Leavenworth down to the mouth, with three and a half feet in the channel above Jefferson, and thirty inches below.

The weather continues fine and warm, and business on the levee is dull.

CAIRO.

We have a slight change in the Ohio since our last report. Ohio river boats report twenty-eight inches on the shortest bars, and the channel cutting out. To St. Louis the river continues to fall slowly with four and a half feet on Herculaneum bar.

To Memphis five feet can be found; below that there is good water to Helena.

Business on the levee yesterday was inclined to be brisk, and the weather was delightfully pleasant.

A large quantity of cotton is being shipped by rail from this point.

The Lady Franklin arrived here last night with 409 bales of cotton for Cincinnati, and 200 bars railroad iron for Louisville. She was also full of people to this point.

The following is a manifest of the steamer Lady Franklin, from Memphis to Cincinnati: Robert Moore & Co., R D L, 24 bales cotton; W P Mellen, various marks, 230 bales cotton; L Devenny, various marks, 126 bales cotton; Forbe & Purcell, various marks, 29 bales cotton; Nixon, Chatfield & Co, N C W, 27 bales rags; G M Harencourt. N C W, 102 beer bbls; also, for Louisville, 200 bars railroad iron.

THE CHINESE REBELLION.—Hong Kong dates to the 20th of August have been received. The Taping rebellion is becoming more formidable, owing to the existence of numerous fillibusters. Burgoyne, who succeeded Ward as leader of the American fillibusters on the Imperialist's side, had gone over to Taping, taking many skilled riflemen with him. His first exploit was the capture of an Imperial steamer, and immediately after the city of Dunzain. Hong Kong papers attach great importance to his movements. They ask, who can tell how many thousand fillibusters will flock to Burgoyne's standing, since every inducement is offered which tends to gratify fillibustering expectations, such as animosity to England, plunder and boundless drains of conquest.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Despatch to the Commercial.

News from Richmond Papers.

WASHINGTON, October 1.—The Richmond papers of Tuesday mention all quiet on the Rapidan and Rappahannock. They add that they anticipate no attack from Rosecrans, though stating that Bragg is within two miles of Chattanooga, and that Longstreet commands the river and railroad below that place.

Important Raid.

Col. Foster, of the 60th Indiana, under Burnside, has made an important raid on Bristol, Tennessee, near Virginia line, destroying a large amount of supplies and railroad bridges. The rebel papers say that the Confederate forces displayed great cowardice.

Rebel Rumor.

The Richmond Whig, of the 29th ult., says Rosecrans will fall back on Nashville.

Cabinet Meeting.

The President called a Cabinet meeting to-day on the Missouri question. It is understood that Stanton, Chase and Welles favored the recall of Schofield, and that Blair, Seward and Chase opposed it, leaving the President to decide the issue. The delegation will visit New York, and leave a committee here to await the President's reply.

Appointed.

Col. Ramsey, late of the Washington Arsenal, has been made Chief of Ordnance in place of Gen. Ripley, who is relieved.

Not Resigned.

Neither Gen. Slocum, of Twelfth Corps, nor Howard, of Eleventh Corps, have resigned, nor has Hooker been put in command of those two corps.

Captured by Guerillas.

One of Governor Pierpont's aids and Col. Dulany were captured by guerillas near Alexandria, yesterday.

Rebel Army at Richmond.

Several prisoners reached here to-day from Richmond. They concur in stating that A. P. Hill garrisons Richmond with 8,000 men, and that Longstreet reinforced Bragg, three week ago, with 28,000 men.

Furlough for Clerks.

A Committee of Pennsylvanians have arranged for a furlough of ten days, for all Clerks from that State to go home and vote at the coming Election.

Propositions for Mass Meeting.

The Missouri Delegation have under consultation propositions for holding a Grand Mass Meeting in the West, relative to the issues producing trouble in Missouri.

Arrested for Supplying Rebel Officers.

Col. McReynolds, of the 1st New York cavalry, has been brought here from Martinsburg, of which place he was in command, charged with supplying rebel officers with articles through the lines.

Strength of Meade's Army.

A rebel dispatch, dated Gordonsville, Sept. 28th, says Meade is 60,000 strong on the Rapidan. A.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1, 1863.

Furloughs for Sick Soldiers.

By direction of the Secretary of War, upon the receipt of the order, Surgeons in charge of hospitals throughout Pennsylvania will furlough, for twenty days, all convalescents belonging to that State, at the expiration of which they will return to their respective hospitals. The military headquarters in different parts of the city are crowded with men who have been dismissed from the various government hospitals throughout the city on furlough for the purpose of visiting their families in different parts of the State.

Gen. Gilmore at Work—Bridge Burned.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 29th says that Gen. Gillmore's batteries, after three weeks' silence, had commenced work and kept up a slow fire against the ruins of Fort Sumter. The same paper reports that General Burnside's forces had burned the railroad bridge at Carter's Station, twenty miles from Bristol, Tennessee, and were retreating towards Knoxville, followed by the rebel cavalry.

All Quiet on the Rapidan.

Affairs on the Rapidan were reported quiet on the 28th, but anxiety was expressed for the safety of Lee's army in case Gen. Meade should attack it, because of its greatly decreased strength.

Congratulatory Order from Gen. Lee.

Gen. Lee has issued a congratulatory order to his army, announcing Bragg's victory over Rosecrans, and with gratitude to Almighty God, etc., and invoking the continued assistance of Heaven in their efforts. The Richmond Examiner says the fatality among their field officers is unprecedented.

Furloughed Soldiers.

Up to five o'clock to-day about one thousand passes have been issued for furloughed soldiers to go home over the railroads leading out of this city.

Refused to Assess.

Hough, the assessor of the Second ward, refused to-day to assess Lieut. Runker, a resident of that ward for over twenty-three years. In order to prove to the assessor that he was a resident of the ward, he presented twelve men to vouch for the truth of his statement. The assessor refused him because he said that he had come home to vote, but if he would bring an affidavit that he did not come for that purpose he would assess him. Several were refused the same right yesterday by different Democratic assessors.

Copperheads Indignant.

The Copperheads are violent over the privileges now being afforded the soldiers to go home and vote.

There is no news to-night of importance. Everything is very dull. H.

Associate Press Dispatches.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sept. 30.—The Richmond papers of the 28th and 29th have the following:

ATLANTA, Sept. 26.—Our lines extend around Chattanooga, within striking distance of the enemy. Our forces are well up in front. On Wednesday our cavalry occupied Cooper's Gap, on Lookout Mountain. The mountain is now held by Gen. Longstreet, who commands the river and railroad below Chattanooga. Our loss in killed and wounded will not exceed 12,000. The enemy's loss will reach 28,000. On Thursday the enemy made two attempts on our lines, but were driven back.

The Enquirer says that an expedition from Richmond to the Chesapeake bay has succeeded in destroying three sloops and two schooners. One of the latter, the Alliance, from Philadelphia for Port Royal, was loaded with sutlers's stores, worth $200,000.

NEW YORK, October 1.—Gen. Robt. Anderson states to the War Department that he has yet in his possession the flag that he pulled down from Sumter. It has never left his custody.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to-day a report was made from the Committee to examine the harbor defences. A vessel would be exposed to a raking fire of eight hundred guns of the heaviest calibre, in its passage into this barbor, and they did not see how a hostile vessel could go through the narrows. The harbor is in a perfect state of defense.

WASHINGTON, October 1.—The Alexandria News says that Moseby, while on his way down on Monday, with his gang of guerrillas passed within a half a mile of a detached camp of the 2d Massachusetts regiment of cavalry, whose headquarters are at Centerville. He seems to have no fears of capture, and finds but little trouble in penetrating our lines. On Thursday last he captured, near Springfield Station, two trains of four mules each.

NEWPORT, R. I., There was an examination of the Midshipman class to-day.—Among the rejected boys is a nephew of President Lincoln.

WASHINGTON, October 1.—Information has been received from the Army of the Potomac that affairs were apparently unchanged. Nothing is transpiring to indicate immediate active operations. The enemy was entrenched on the south side of the Rapidan. General Hill's entire corps is supposed to be there, the enemy's pickets are on the north and west of our lines. A few days ago a considerable column of rebel troops was observed going northward near the Blue Ridge side, perhaps forming a part of the force reported to be concentrating in the valley.

Col. Dulany, recently captured by the rebels, was attached to Gov. Pierpoint's staff. He was at the house of a relative several miles from Alexandria. Several officers of the navy have recently mysteriously disappeared, among them is 2d Assistant Engineer, Benj. Bunce and 3d Assistant Engineer, Jesse Walton. They have, it is feared, met with some casuality, which has prevented them from reporting their address to the Department.

The Missouri and Kansas Delegates this p. m. passed resolutions calling a mass meeting of the unconditional Union men of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Arkansas, Illinois and such other States as may choose to participate, at Hannibal Mo., on the 21st of October.

The Missouri Delegation has extended an invitation to Gen. Saul, of Kansas, to deliver an address at Turner's Hall, St. Louis, on the 12th inst. He has accepted it, and will accede to the understanding that he will reply to the recent speech of Gen. Frank P. Blair.

The Missouri delegation has appointed a sub committee, consisting of Mr. Drake, chairman, the two Representatives in Congress from that State, vice Messrs. Loan and McClurg, and one from each of the Congressional districts, making twelve in all, to await the President's response to the address which was presented yesterday. Some of the delegates started west today. Others will reach New York to-morrow night to attend the reception which awaits them at the Cooper Institute.

Arrangement for prompt communication between Chattanooga and Washington are now perfected.

It is not supposed here in military circles that any serious impediment will interfere with the reinforcing of the Army of the Cumberland.

BOSTON, October 1.—It is understood that the Government and Council have opened bids for the late loan of $1,800,000, and have accepted all at above 3 per cent.

By order of U. S. Marshal Keyes, the prize cargo of the prize steamer Cronstadt, consisting of cotton, turpentine and tobacco, was sold at auction to-day. The cotton brought from 65c. to 97½c.

Nine hundred conscripts left the depot at Long Island to-day for the Army of the Potomac, by steamer Forest City.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30, 1862.

Editors Commercial: A note-worthy event in the routine of Washington affairs is the arrival, a few days ago, of the Missouri-Kansas Delegation, numbering upwards of seventy members, chosen from different counties in Missouri and Kansas, to come here and represent their grievances to the highest authorities and ask for relief and redress. Seventeen of them are from Kansas, the rest from Missouri. All of them are men of unbounded patriotism, styled by their opponents at home, Radicals, which means unconditional Unionism and death to the rebellion and its cause. These men represent two-thirds of the voting population of Missouri and the entire voice of Kansas. Their grievances under the pro-Slavery-rebel-sympathizing-Administration of Governor Gamble and the quiescent military rule of Gen. Schofield, are enormous.

The brutal and shocking massacre at Lawrence, and the bushwhacking of peaceable Union citizens in Missouri, with impunity are chargeable to the miserable policy pursued by General Schofield, showing clearly that he is not in the right place. The delegation will have an interview with the President to-day at 10 o'clock, when they will present the case and ask that Schofield be removed and some man of nerve and backbone be appointed in his place. They are in favor General Butler, and their request will receive due consideration.

Mrs. Lincoln and her youngest son returned from her northern tour yesterday, much improved in health and spirits. The White House, in the meantime, has undergone some necessary repairs, and the President will soon change his residence from the Soldier's Home to his winter quarters.

Military movements are still quite brisk, and in the right direction. Details of these movements I am not at liberty to give at present. General Hooker has been assigned an important command, and, with General Butterfield as his Chief of Staff, has gone to enter his new field of operations. News from General Rosecrans is cheering, and the Richmond papers growl at his pertinacity in confronting their forces, and his evident determination to hold Chattanooga. They are dissatisfied with Bragg, for his failure to recapture the place after two distinct efforts. They admit that Lee is in a critical situation on the Rapidan.

Davenport, Wallack & Co., have created a perfect furor among the tragic-loving people at the old Washington Theater, while Maggie Mitchell is charming a crowded house with her bewitching manners, every night, at Ford's new Theatre.

New York Cattle Market.

TRIBUNE REPORT.

BULL'S HEAD.—We have another very large supply of beef cattle in market this week, making an average for the last four weeks of over 6,000 a week, and although the most of them have been of only medium or inferior quality, and sold at what owners are pleased to call ruinous prices, the best quality has sold readily at prices estimated equal to 10*a*11c ℔ lb for the net weight of the meat, seller sinking offall, and at no time has the market been so glutted that all the stock could not be sold, by making a moderate reduction of current rates. We give below the quoted average prices of first class cattle, in January and July, for nine years:

Beef Cattle—The market opened this week at Forty-fourth street with something like 4,000 head of cattle on sale, of which a large proportion were common and inferior cattle. All the first-class cattle sold readily at 10@11c—very few good enough, however, to bring the latter rate, and were mostly taken by our best butchers and the Government agents. Some of the best droves sold at 10½c for the net weight of beef; medium grades at 8@9½c, and the common and inferior 5@7c, and selling very slowly at that.

The closing of the market was worse, if anything, than the opening, and prices show a falling off of fully ½a¾c per pound, and in some instances 1c decline has been submitted to. The number of inferior cattle and "scallawags" offered this week has been unusually large. We quote extra at 10*a*11c; medium to good, 8*a*9½c; common, 6½*a*7½c; and inferior 5½*a*6c. Average of all sales about 8c.

Cows and Calves—Milch cows sell moderately at about former rates, viz., $25*a*30 for common to fair, and $35*a*50 for choice and extra. Veal calves are in pretty good demand, prices are maintained. We quote at 5c for inferior; 6*a*6½c for common to good, and 7*a*7½c for choice and extra.

Sheep and Lambs—The market opened a little firmer for sheep, but the increased supply, a moderate demand and the warmer weather have all had influence to produce a heavy feeling, and at the close prices are not well sustained. Lambs are also depressed. We quote sheep, live, at 4¾*a*5¼c, a few very good at 5½c; and common at 4¼c. Lambs are worth from $2 to $5 50 per head.

Swine—The supply is again very heavy and with only a moderate demand the market is weak. A large number remain on sale. We quote corn-fed, live, at 4½*a*5⅜c, and distillery fed 4⅞*a*5¼c.

New Orleans Market.

SEPT. 22.—Cotton—The receipts of the past three or four days, which are rather more liberal, have not yet been placed in the market. A lot of 551 bales was received this morning, consigned to one party. The only sale we have to report to-day is two bales repacked, sold privately at 54c ℔ lb, cash, in currency. To-morrow about 100 bales will be offered at auction.

Sugar—The supply is more liberal. There was a brisk inquiry to-day, resulting in a slight advance in prices, the sales comprising fully 300 hhds, in several lots, at 10¼c for good common, 10⅞c for fair, 11¼c for fully fair, 11½c for fully fair to prime, 11¾c for prime, and 12¾c for yellow clarified. By auction, 25 bbls sold at 10¼a10⅞c and 11½c ℔ lb.

Molasses—The supply is more liberal today, and the demand is fully met. The sales embraced 600 bbls, in several lots, at 25a26c for common, and 30, 32a33c ℔ gal for good to prime.

Bran—To-day's sales embrace about 1,000 sack lots at $2 20a2 25 ℔ 100 lbs.

Flour—The sales from first hands reported Saturday should have been at $10 25*a* 10 37½ ℔ bbl for good to choice extra. There were also sales of about 4000 bbls, not previously reported, at $9 for superfine and $10 for extra. We have not a transaction to report to-day. Purchasers have withdrawn from the market, holders not being willing to submit to any concession in prices.

Onions—They are held on the landing at $5 50 ℔ bbl.

Potatoes—The supply of potatoes on the landing, which is very light, is held at $5 50 ℔ bbl.

Apples—Holders on the landing are asking $5*a*6 ℔ bbl, according to quality.

Chickens—The receipts from the West command $6*a*9 ℔ doz.

Corn—To-day's sales embrace 1,500 sacks in lots at $1 22½*a*1 25 ℔ bus for yellow and mixed.

Miscellaneous—Sales at auction this day: 10 half bxs Star candles at 22; 10 half bbls damaged beef at $5; 5 bbls do at $3 75; 50 reams medium size wrapping paper at 40c; 10 bbls whisky at $1*a*1 47, and 200 bbls flour at $5 80*a*5 90.

Baltimore Markets.

Coffee—Transactions in Rio were unimportant, but the market ruled firm. Common to prime quality we quote at 29½*a*31c ℔ lb.

Flour and Meal—Fresh ground Flour comes forward very slowly, and all grades command better prices. Sales on 'Change embraced 500 bbls Ohio Extra at $6 25; 300 bbls Howard street do at $6 50, and 200 bbls Superfine do at $5 50 per bbl. We now quote Ohio Super at $5 50, Howard street do. at $5 50@$5 62½, Ohio Extra at $6 12½, Howard street do at $6 50@$6 75 shipping brands City Mills do. at $7 50@ $8 00 and Baltimore Family at $9 per bbl. Rye Flour and Corn Meal are firm at $5 87½ and $4 50 per bbl.

Grain—There was a short supply of all the varieties at market this morning, but with the exception of an improvement in yellow Corn, prices showed no material alteration. We quote common to medium Southern White Wheat at $1 30@1 55, fair to very prime do. at $1 65@1 75, fair to choice Kentucky do. at $1 80 to 1 90, inferior to ordinary Southern red at 1 25@$1 40, and fair to prime do. at $1 45@1 50 per bushel. Yellow Corn at 98 cts@$1, and white at 95 to 98 cents per bushel for damaged and prime. Maryland Oats at 58a62 cents measure, and Pennsylvania do. at 76a80 cents weight. Rye$ 1 03a1 05 per bus, as to quality.

Molasses and Sugar—Under this head we have reported sales of 20 hhds good Porto Rico grocery Sugar at 13 cents, and 15 hhds common Cuba do. at 11¾ cts. ℔ lb. Prices for both articles closed steady as previously quoted.

Provisions—We have only to note sales of 20,000 lbs Bacon Shoulders at 6¾ cents, and 15,000 lbs do. Sides at 7 cents ℔ lb. Bulk Meat is scarce, and Shoulders and Sides are both nominal at 6 cents ℔ lb. Hams move slowly at quotations, viz: 10*a* 10¾ cts for plain; and 13*a*14 cts per lb for sugar cured and fancy. Barreled Meat is inactive. Mess Pork may be quoted at $14*a* $14 25 per bbl for new.

Whisky—Sales reported of 100 bbls Ohio in lots, at 53½ cts per gallon.

New York Coffee Market.

Coffee—has been in moderate request at buoyant prices. Sales of Rio during the past week amount to 3,917 bags, in lots to the trade, including 1,900 balance ℔ Victoria, at 28c, net cash. Stock of all kinds to-day, 63,179 packages, including, according to Messrs Wm. Scott & Son, 1,800 mats Java, 50,318 bags Rio and Santos, 8,958 bags Ceylon, 210 bags Maracaibo, and 1,893 bags of other kinds. Java closes at 37½*a*38c; Ceylon, 32*a*33c; Rio, 29½*a*32½c; Laguyra and Maracaibo, 30*a*32½; St. Domingo, 26*a*27c per lb.

Stock of Rio:—September 26, Baltimore, bags 3,000; September 29, New York, bags 50,318; Grand total, bags 53,318.

Philadelphia Metal Market.

Iron continues in good demand, and Foundry Pig Metal very scarce at previous rates. We quote at $31*a*32 for No. 3; $34 for No. 2, and $35 for No. 1, and little or none of the latter to be had at that figure. Scotch Pig is scarce and wanted at $36, but holders now ask more. Manufactured iron is in request at fully former prices, and the mills generally being well off for orders.

Chicago Markets.

The Flour market continues very active, and the demand for choice grades of both winter and spring extras is fully up to the supply offering. The advices from New York caused a decidedly firmer feeling among holders, and prices advanced fully 10*a*15c per barrel, and in some instances sales of spring extras were affected at an advance of 20c per barrel. The sales include some 5,000 bbls at the range of $6 00*a* 8 00 for winter extras, including very choice St. Louis brands at the upper price; $5 50*a*6 50 for good and choice spring extras; $5 00*a*5 50 for fair to good do; and $4 15*a*4 50 for spring superfine. The market closed with holders very firm in their demands at full price.

In wheat the demand was active and we note a further advance in prices of 1*a*2c per bushel, the market closing with holders firm in their demands at the advance. The sales were liberal at the range of $1 08 *a*1 11 for No. 2 Red; $1 00 for Rejected Red; $1 06½*a*1 08½ for No. 1 Spring; $1 03*a*5 05 for No. 2 Spring; and $1 00*a*1 01 for Rejected Spring—all in store. The upper prices were paid for receipts in preferred warehouses, the market closing firm at prices within the range of quotations.

Holders of Corn are not pressing sales, while buyers are backward and slow to pay the advance asked. Prices again advanced 2*a*3c ℔ bushel, the average advance being 2c. There is only a moderate business doing, chiefly speculative, as there is not a sufficient margin between this and New York to induce an active shipping demand. The sales were moderate at the range of 72*a*74c for No. 1 in store, and 71½*a*72½c for No. 2 in store. Sales afloat were at 73c for No. 2, and 74*a*75c for No 1.

Oats opened firm and prices advanced 1*a* 1½c ℔ bushel, but closed easier with sellers at 52½*a*52¾c. The sales were fair at 52*a*53½c for No. 1 in store, and 51*a*52c for No. 2 in store.

Rye was firmer, and sales were made at an advance of 1c ℔ bushel, with a good demand. Sales were at 84½*a*86c for No. 1; 81c for No. 2; and 78c for Rejected in store.

Barley met with an active demand, and prices were firm and about 1c better, with sales at $1 09*a*1 11 for No. 2 in store, and 1 14 *a*1 15 by sample on track.

Highwines were active and buoyant, and prices advanced 1c per gallon, with sales of 2,000 bbls in lots at 50c.

New York Oil Market.

Oils have been less active, but generally very firm. Crude Whale 92a95c; do Sperm $1 46a1 48; Bleached Winter Whale $1 02½a $1 05; Unbleached Sperm $1 80a1 85; Linseed $1 35a1 36; No. 1 Lard 87½ca$1 05; City Red 72a73c; Olive $1 75 ℔ gal, and $6 25a6 50 and $4 37½a4 50 for pints and quarts; Crude Petroleum 35a36c; Refined do 67a69c ℔ gallon. Mr. Turner says the market for Petroleum has been without important change during the week, fluctuating a little with the changes in the gold market, but, on the whole, has been steady at 58a59c for Refined and 36a37 for Crude. The export demand still continues, and there is a marked improvement in the home demand. The stock of Crude is estimated at 45,000 bbls, and of Refined 80,000 bbls. The following are the receipts and exports from New York, of Petroleum, for the week and since Jan. 1:

The Crops in Indiana.

Farmers from Kenton, Campbell, Bracken, and adjoining counties, in Kentucky, inform the Cincinnati Commercial that the late severe frost caused considerable injury to the growing crops, particularly tobacco. Many who had fine prospects report that they will not have a good hogshead of tobacco, where they expected to have twelve or fifteen.

This county was visited with a heavy frost last night, which has no doubt done immense damage to tobacco, not more than one half of which, we suppose was cut. Ice was formed in some places.—Jasper (Ind.) Courier, Sept. 19.

We learn that the tobacco crop in this region was almost entirely destroyed by the recent frost. This is also the case with the corn in the clay district.—Terre Haute (Ind) Express.

HOSTETTER'S
BITTERS.

HEAR THE WITNESSES.

WORTHLESS and pernicious articles are so often bolstered up in the advertising columns of the press by fabricated letters that the proprietors of

HOSTETTER'S BITTTERS

Rarely give quotations from their business correspondence, lest the GENUINE OPINIONS of those who use and appreciate a GENUINE ARTICLE, should be confounded by the unthinking with the FULSOME RIGMAROLE put into the mouths of MEN OF STRAW by unscrupulous empirics and charlatans, whose double object is to SELL both their trash and the PUBLIC.

Believing, however, that FACTS IMPORTANT TO THE HEALTH AND COMFORT OF THE PUBLIC, and which can be VERIFIED AT ANY MOMENT by addressing the parties who vouch for them, ought not to be hid under a bushel, the undersigned publish below a few communications of recent date, to which they invite the attention of the people, and at the same time ESPECIALLY REQUEST all readers who may feel interested in the subject to ADDRESS THE INDIVIDUALS THEMSELVES, and ascertain the correctness of the particulars.

It may be thought, perhaps, that a preparation like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which has long been a STANDARD TONIC throughout the WESTERN HEMISPHERE, and is rapidly becoming a staple of trade at the antipopes, speaks for itself in stronger tones than private eulogium can speak for it. This is true; but the phases of disease are almost innumerable, and every day new instances of the success of the Bitters, either as a PREVENTIVE or a CURE, come to the knowledge of the proprietors through the mails. Some of these are of immediate interest to thousands placed in precisely the same circumstances as the parties who have been PROTECTED and RELIEVED, and therefore it seems almost an act of duty to put them on record.

The immense increase in the sale of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, both at home and abroad, during the past year proves that the world, while it obeys the Scriptural injunction to "try all things," only "HOLDS FAST to that which is GOOD." Spurious preparations, like poisonous fungi, are continually springing up, but their character is soon discovered, and they are "flung like worthless weeds away." On the other hand, a great antidote that performs all it promises, and even more than its proprietors claimed for it on its introduction, is "not for a day, but for all time."

Every dose administered of a useless or deleterious nostrum helps to disabuse the public mind of the impressions it may have received from the flourish of trumpets with which the deceptious article was announced; while, on the contrary, every bottle sold of a purely valuable medicine secures the permanent custom of the purchaser, and makes him an ADVERTISER OF ITS MERITS among his friends. It is thus that HOSTETTER'S BITTERS have obtained their unparalled popularity. The Press, indeed, has made the GREAT STOMACHIC widely known, but it is the uniformly successful results of PERSONAL EXPERIMENT that have rendered it a HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE through out the length and breadth of the land, and the main reliance of the TRAVELER, the VOYAGER, the MINER and the PIONEER.

During the Summer months, a pure, wholesome tonic, in which are also incorporated the properties of an anti-bilious and mild aperient agent, is especially needed. Such a preparation is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the surest preventative and cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, and nervous debility, ever placed within the reach of the community.

Against the depressing and sickening tendency of heat and miasma, it is a potent safeguard, and upon persons of feeble constitution and uncertain health, its renovating effects are most extraordinary.

READ REV W. B. LEE'S LETTER.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 28, 1863.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—I have used your Bitters during the last six weeks and feel it due to you and the public to express my hearty approval of their effect upon me. I never wrote a puff for any one, and I abhor everything that savors of quackery. But your Bitters are entirely removed from the level of the mere nostrums of the day, being parent alike to all, and exactly what they profess to be. They are not advertised to cure everything, but they are recommended to assist nature in the alleviation and the ultimate healing of the most common infirmities of the body, and this they will accomplish. I had been unwell for two months, as is usual with me during the Spring. I was bilious, and suffering from indigestion and a general disease of the mucous membrane, and though compelled to keep at work in the discharge of my professional duties, was very weak, of a yellow complexion, had no appetite and was much of the time confined to my bed. When I had been taking your bitters a week my vigor returned, the sallow complexion was all gone, I relished my food, and now I enjoy the duties of mental application, which so recently were so very irksome and burdensome to me. When I used your bitters I felt a change every day. These are facts. All inference must be made by each individual for himself.

Yours respectfully,
W. B. LEE,
Pastor of Green avenue Presbyterian Church.

READ E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH'S LETTER.
PROSPECT COTTAGE,
GEORGETOWN, D. C., April 2, 1863.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure to add my testimonial to those of others in favor of your excellent preparation. Several years of residence on the banks of a Southern river, and of close application to literary work, had so thoroughly exhausted my nervous system and undermined my health, that I had become a martyr to dyspepsia, and nervous headaches recurring at short intervals, and defying all known remedies in the Materia Medica, I had come to the conclusion that nothing but a total change of residence and pursuits would restore my health, when a friend recommended Hostetter's Bitters. I procured a bottle as an experiment. It required but one bottle to convince me that I had found at last the right combination of remedies. The relief afforded me has been complete. It is now some years since I first tried Hostetter's bitters, and it is but just to say that I have found the preparation all that it claims to be. It is a standard family cordial with us; and even as a stimulant we like it better than anything else; but we use it in all nervous, bilious and dyspeptic cases from fever down to toothache. If what I have now said will lead any dyspeptic or nervous invalid to a sure remedy, I shall have done some good.

I remain, gentlemen, respectfully yours,
E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

READ JOHN W. BRONOUGH'S LETTER.
NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Yards and Docks, Dec. 30, 1862.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.: Gentlemen: About four years since, my attention was called to your celebrated Stomach Bitters, I being at the time a perfect martyr to dyspepsia in all of its terrific forms; indeed, I had not known for six years an uninterrupted night's sleep. I commenced the use of your Bitters, taking them according to your directions, except that the dose was reduced to one-half, and found myself much, very much benefitted by the first bottle; the second relieved me entirely; but I have ever since taken a dose in the morning, immediately on rising, finding it act as a tonic and appetizer of the most agreeable character. There is a peculiarity in the effect of your Bitters on me, which it may be well to state. If from any cause, I shall be suffering never so acutely with the headache, a dose of your Bitters relieves me in fifteen minutes. In conclusion, I say with all sincerity and truth, I would not be returned to the state of health in which your Bitters found me, and from which they have unquestionably relieved me, for all the money in the world.

I am, with great respect, your obd't servant,
JOHN W. BRONOUGH, Chief Clerk.

READ SAMUEL BYER'S LETTER.
NEW CONVALESCENT CAMP,
Near Alexander, Va., May 24, 1863.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Dear Sirs: Will you do me the favor to forward, by express, one-half dozen Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, with bill, for which I will remit you on receipt of the same, as I am unable to procure your medicine here; and if I had a quantity, it could be sold readily, as it is known to be the best preparation in use for diseases having their origin with a diseased stomach. I have used and sold hundreds of preparations, but your Bitters are superior to anything of the kind I am cognizant with. Indeed, no soldier should be without it, should he be ever so robust and healthy; for it is not only a Restorative, but a Preventative, for almost all diseases a soldier is subject to. I have been afflicted with chronic indigestion, and no medicine has ever afforded me the relief yours has; and I trust you will lose no time in sending the Bitters ordered. Yours respectfully,
SAMUEL BYERS, Hospt.

RENSSELAERVILLE, July 7, 1864.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—Please send me some of your Bitters at your earliest convenience, as I have at present an extensive sale for them. I have no medicine of which I sell as much as your Bitters. I have kept them for two years last past. They have now begun to sell. They have performed some remarkable cures in Dyspepsia which have been of long standing, and from which they have acquired a reputation won by no other medicine in our market. I can send you certificates surpassing anything you ever published, if of any value to you, being anxious such a medicine should be introduced in every place. If persons were as well acquainted with it as I am, they would not be without it. Respectfully yours,
W. P. SWEET, Druggist,
